(This is the first in a series of three articles about the North Central Association Visitation of Antioch Community High School.)

Antioch Community High School District No. 117 was visited on Dec. 10-13, 1968 by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools Visitation Committee.

The Committee's purpose was to evaluate the plant and program of Antioch Community High School for the purposes of continued accreditation by the Association.

Herbert L. Wesner, retired former Superintendent of Lake Zurich High School, was the chairman of the Committee and edited the final report which had been filed with the Association and a copy presented to the high school.

The preparation for this visit was begun more than a year before the actual visit. Supt. Albert Dittman appointed a steering committee for the project consisting of himself, Warren Polley, the Assistant Supt., Arthur Blecke, the Dean of Boys, Ward Lear, the Athletic Director and Bernard Fosmark, the Chairman of the English Department.

The steering committee set up, and implemented, a time-table leading to the visit which included the appointment of various committees to handle the many departments and general areas that would be evaluated.

The various committees investigated their own areas, meeting several times and participated in a self-evaluation using the Association's Evaluation Criteria.

This self-evaluation is most comprehensive and generally agreed to be the most important segment of the visitation experience.

Educational leaders from many schools and areas of competence were recommended by staff members to serve on the actual visitation committee. The final committee consisted of twenty-four members, among whom were college professors, superintendents, principals, department chairmen and classroom teachers.

The visiting team met on Tuesday, Dec. 10, 1968 and received information about the school, the community and the philosophy and objectives of the school.

Wednesday and Thursday were spent in visitations of the facilities and classes. Evening meetings of the committee were held for oral reports of the committee members and to give them an opportunity to write reports in their specific assigned areas of the curriculum.

The visiting committee was dismissed on Friday, Dec. 13, 1968, by the chairman. Wesner then proceeded to compile all of the reports and wrote a summary of the entire visitation which was completed the following January with a copy presented to the school.

The summary of the 95 page report presented to the school, written by Wesner, indicated that the high school staff was "highly trained, stable and dedicated", and, "an excellent esprit de corps exists in the daily interaction between students and faculty".

Some recommendations were made for improvement of the program. These include: the necessity of remodeling the old section of the building, the need for a curriculum co-ordinator to co-ordinate the varied programs of the school, the expansion of the administrative council to provide better lines of communication, the providing of extended contracts to teachers so that new programs and techniques may be planned during the summer so that they could be implemented during the following year, and a review of class and pupil loads in a few areas.

Wesner ended his summary with the following: "It is the hope of the members of the visiting team that their suggestions and recommendations published in this report be considered as professional assistance for future consideration by the Antioch High School in its effort to continually improve on the high quality of education presently being provided."

The next article will deal with the general areas of the North Central Association report.

Tax Bills May 1

According to County Treasurer Raymond Sheahan's office tax bills will be mailed starting May 1. This will be the third year in a row the bills are out on time. The only thing which could cause a change would be an equipment failure.

If the bills are received by taxpayers on time, the deadline for paying first installments is June 1. Second installments on real estate would then be due September 1. Taxes not paid by the installment period deadline are subject to a penalty of 1% per month. There is only one payment date for personal property, June 1.

If the ordering is delayed, however, the price is expected to go up.

Who May Attend CLC

(Third in a Series)

With the opening of the College of Lake County this September, many high school seniors are making plans to enroll in Lake County's new community college. In the past several weeks, the Board of the Junior College District has set down admissions and residency policies which will govern who may attend CLC.

Dr. Russell Bloyer, Dean of Student Services, explains admission to CLC is open to all high school graduates, as well as non-high school graduates 18 years of age or older who can benefit from programs or courses offered by the College. However, he stresses that this policy does not insure admission to a particular course or program.

"After entry, the extensive counseling services available at CLC will be provided to assist each student in establishing goals and selecting a program consistent with his interests and abilities," explained Dr. Bloyer.

It is expected more than 1,000 students in the Junior College District will enroll for the Fall semester, Dr. Bloyer said. The District is comprised of 12 high school districts and three private high schools within its geographic boundaries. The public high schools are Antioch, Grant, Grayslake, Lake Zurich, Libertyville, Mundelein, North Chicago, Round Lake, Warren, Wauconda and Waukegan.

In adopting residency policies, the Board chose not to require residence in the District for any specified period prior to enrollment at CLC. Rather, the policy states a person is considered a resident if he is of age and resides in the District; lives with his parents or legal guardian within the District; or is a married minor living in the District. "A person will not be considered a resident of the College district simply on the basis of enrolling at CLC," Dr. Bloyer said. "He must be living here at the time he registers."

Persons living out of the District will also be admitted, added Dr. Bloyer. However, if space is not available for all students applying, preference will be given to residents of the Junior College District.

Admissions applications are now available through the CLC office in Waukegan and through high school counselors. Dr. Bloyer said the College hopes to have counseling services set up on a part-time basis in the near future to assist students in planning their college program.

"Even though we will be housed in interim facilities this year, we will make every effort to provide a suitable college program and

County Functions Are Varied, Many

Due to the U.S. Supreme Court one-man, one-vote ruling there has been a great deal of publicity recently regarding the reapportionment of governmental districts on all levels.

Several bills have been introduced in the current session of the Illinois General Assembly concerning county reapportionment so that all conform to the one-man, one-vote concept.

It is no wonder that the average resident is somewhat confused about the functions of a county and its powers. For years we have heard about the necessity to preserve "home rule", that is, the rights of the local government units. Many people believe the county to be an autonomous entity, but nothing could be further from the truth.

Counties possess no inherent powers, only those conferred by the State. Thus under Illinois law counties must: collect taxes, assess property, conduct elections, record legal documents, provide law enforcement, administer justice through the courts, perform welfare services, supervise the educational system, record vital statistics, construct and maintain certain roads and bridges, regulate zoning and administer liquor control.

These are specified duties

No Change Needed

We are often asked who we are going to pick in the Antioch Township election coming up April 1.

So we thought that we would get our selections in early.

The Taxpayers Independent Political Party has a slogan this year—Time for a Change.

The first question that pops into our minds is Why?

Thus far, in this very quiet campaign, we haven't seen any answer to that question.

If it is change for change sake then we have to disagree. What will they do differently? Their duties are set up by statute.

No change is forthcoming there.

We happen to believe that the incumbents have done a good job.

Therefore we are supporting Llewellyn Van Patten for Town Clerk, G. Dudley Kennedy for Assessor, and John Miller, Irving Carey and Harold Wilson for Auditors when we go to the polls April 1.

The concentration in this campaign seems to center on the assessor's race.

We hear a persistent rumor that an Antioch Township resident had his assessment raised and that is the reason for the opposition to the incumbents.

If that is true, then in our opinion it is no reason at all.

Kennedy has a reputation among county officials as an honest, hard-working assessor who gets his duties done and his reports in on time.

We have found him to be fair and impartial.

We plunk for the incumbents.

We urge you to do likewise.

Community Spirit

Community spirit seems to be lacking in the Antioch area—especially where the almighty dollar is concerned.

We are thinking specifically of two large, local chain food stores and a recent campaign.

The campaign was put on by the students of Antioch High School to put out a booklet—and they needed advertising in the booklet.

The proceeds are for a worthy cause.

They go to support the Summer Music Camp that is put on annually.

These two chain stores were approached and the youngsters received a turn-down.

One did contribute a small amount but we suspect that it came out of the pocket of one of the executives in the local store and not from the corporate pot.

But a search through the records reveals that never—or at least seldom—did these chain food stores contribute to the community project.

And we checked the Summer Music Camp, the Little League, and a recent church program.

This seems strange to us because of the tremendous amount of money that the citizens of the area contributed to these outlets through their purchases.

Maybe it may not be the fault of the local manager that this policy is instituted. It might come from the home office. His hands may be tied.

But it would seem to us that an institution like a huge chain food store would contribute something more to the community than to just take up space.

And take the local dollar out of the community, never to be seen again.

Your Congressman
Reports.....

By Cong. Robert McClary

The most comprehensive revision of the Federal Income Tax laws in 15 years has been undertaken by the Ways and Means Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives. The principal aims of the Committee will be to eliminate provisions which result in tax avoidance, and to reduce the number of income tax inequities which affect the American taxpayer.

The lengthy agenda of the Committee, together with the extensive hearings which have been planned, provide but a partial indication of the acute problems which face the Committee.

A startling and almost incredible by-product of our existing law is the complete exemption from taxation of large numbers of wealthy Americans. During 1967, some 155 persons with annual incomes of more than $200,000 were required to pay NO Federal income taxes. Indeed, 21 persons with more than $1 million of annual income paid no tax.

Most of these taxpayers were relieved of the burdens of providing Federal tax support by reason of their ownership of municipal and other bonds and securities bearing interest which was tax-free. In addition, agricultural losses deducted from non-agricultural income sources, and deductions of charitable contributions resulting from gifts of property also enable some wealthy persons to escape Federal income tax burdens.

One of the most controversial subjects being reviewed by the Ways and Means Committee is that of tax-exempt organizations, including tax-free foundations. These entities, which contribute much to the social and cultural life of the nation, have been misused in many instances to avoid the imposition of Federal income taxes, and some foundation grants have been made which appear to have had an adverse effect on the very American institutions upon which our free society depends—and which have enabled the foundations to accumulate and conserve their income and resources.

At the other end of the spectrum, the Committee will consider the disproportionate tax burdens imposed on single persons, including widows and widowers who must serve as heads of a household, but who are deprived of the advantages of dividing the tax burden with a spouse. A related subject is that of persons 65 years of age and older, who presently bear an inordinate burden of taxes during their advanced years. Of even greater concern is the tax liability of persons who are totally disabled and who must pay Federal income taxes on the same basis as able-bodied taxpayers. Many other subjects, including proposals for (1) a standard deduction to be made available to most taxpayers, (2) the taxability of deferred compensation, and (3) extension of the surtax, will occupy the members of the Ways and Means Committee during the weeks ahead.

Although the subject of depletion allowances deducted from oil and gas revenues is regarded by many persons as a gross tax inequity, it is doubted that this subject will be reviewed during the current hearings. This serious omission, with its political implications, has resulted in some criticism of the current hearings before the House Ways and Means Committee. However, the Committee is expected to produce substantial results in behalf of a fairer and more equitable distribution of the Federal income tax load.

A comprehensive bill revising the Internal Revenue Code is expected to come to the House of Representatives for consideration—but not until about July 1st.

A minor skirmish developed recently in the U.S. House of Representatives when a Resolution was adopted renaming and re-

Letters to the Editor

1002 Valley Drive

Wildwood, Ill. 60030

I would like to urge everyone to write their Congressmen opposing the abortion liberalization bill advocated by the family study commission of the Illinois General Assembly. I am strongly opposed to the slaughter of babies, born or unborn. If a child were born deformed, retarded, or simply unwanted, would anyone kill him then to prevent his possible future unhappiness? And yet, because they cannot see the unborn child—or perhaps because he cannot see them—some people have no qualms about abortions.

When we have the power to decide who is worthy to be born, and who is not; shall we seek the power to decide who is worthy to grow old and who is not? No mother is obligated to keep her child. It's only nine months of pregnancy to a woman, but it's a lifetime to the other human being.

I am not a Catholic, and I mention this only because opposition to abortion is often considered a uniquely Catholic position. I do believe every man has an intrinsic worth which must not be involuntarily sacrificed for the sake of another. Were there no God at all, the life of a man would still be our highest value. Sincerely,

Margie Kohls

The procedure for reporting is as follows:

1. Telephone your local police station.

2. Be brief, but give a concise picture of the storm:

A. Type of storm (tornado, heavy hail, destructive wind, or thunderstorm (with severe lightning)).

B. Exact location. Example: 3 miles west of Antioch.

C. Time observed.

D. Intensity (severe, destructive, very destructive, etc.)

E. Speed and direction of movement. Example: moving rapidly toward the east.

tional Red Cross programs, especially its services to the armed forces and veterans."

Antioch township has had an average of 55 servicemen in Vietnam throughout the past year.

Because of the greatly increased cost of serving U. S. servicemen in Vietnam and because of a series of major disasters, the Red Cross has been forced to ask the American people for the largest sum of money since World War II—$121,624,000.

The main job of the American Red Cross is not providing coffee and doughnuts to the serviceman. Red Cross First Aid courses are offered throughout the country.

All members of the Antioch Rescue Squad were trained by the Red Cross.

A training course is being offered right now in Antioch under the direction of Dan Dugenske. It is difficult to estimate the number of lives saved, thanks to Red Cross training.

The swimming courses, offered at the Antioch Aqua Center, under the supervision of swimming instructors from the Red Cross, is another outstanding Antioch Red Cross program.

The cost of these lessons would be greatly increased if it were not for the help of the Red Cross. Red Cross First Aid courses on water safety are also offered in the lakes area.

Th Red Cross has been in action wherever disaster strikes—giving quick help and aid to those in need.

constructing the House Committee on Un-American Activities. This committee (renamed the Internal Security Committee) has long been a fetish of the anti-Communists and Right-Wing extremists, and the bane of leftists and fellow-travelers. Most Americans and an overwhelming majority of Members of Congress—including this Member—do not fit either category, and consequently are not violently opposed or inexorably wedded to this minor Committee and its activities.

The current measure (H-Res. 89) which is one of the first legislative enactments of the 91st Congress, is responsive to legitimate criticism which has adversely affected the prestige and effectiveness of the Committee.

A primary concern of the new Chairman of the Committee, Congressman Richard Ichord, has been to adopt comprehensive rules of procedure designed to protect witnesses from harassment and invasion of their privacy. The new rules outline in detail the Committee's authority for compelling appearances of witnesses and the production of documents, as well as for holding witnesses in contempt of court. They are patterned after a code recommended by the American Bar Association. Also, the recently-adopted rules authorize the participation of counsel for witnesses summoned to appear before the Committee. In the opinion of Congressman Ichord, these rules are "the most comprehensive and fairest rules ever adopted by a Committee of the Congress."

The new name of the Committee i.e. "The House Committee on Internal Security" is intended to more accurately describe the purposes and objectives of the Committee. It would be a distortion to suggest that the Committee will jeopardize freedom of thought or political belief. Also, it is erroneous to suggest that the Committee's work will impinge upon the FBI's concern with espionage and subversion.

The new Congressional mandate to the Committee on Internal Security is to investigate the extent, character, objectives and activities within the United States or organizations or groups, their members, agents, and affiliates which seek to establish a totalitarian dictatorship within the United States or to overthrow by force, violence, treachery, etc., the Government of the United States.

It would seem irrational to neglect the useful functions which the Committee on Internal Security can perform. Certainly, in this period of unrest and frequent disorder, it seems incumbent to investigate those elements which are inciting and promoting the disruptive activities which threaten our American institutions. By a vote of almost 4-1 (305-79) the House of Representatives has established the newly-named Committee on Internal Security and has authorized it to conduct investigations.

In arriving at an individual judgment, it would be well to have in mind the Committee's newly-proclaimed aims and objectives. The Committee has an opportunity to prove that its critics are wrong. During the next 22 months, the House Committee on Internal Security will be making its record. The American public will judge whether its record is good—or bad.

FROM THE STATEHOUSE

By LT. GOV. PAUL SIMON

HOW MUCH INDEBTEDNESS SHOULD ILLINOIS ASSUME?

In November, Illinois citizens turned down a $1 billion bond issue for conservation purposes, and the same proposal may be on the ballot in 1970 if bills now pending in the legislature are passed.

The question which Illinois citizens must consider is: How far in debt do we want to go?

Two years ago when the same proposal was before the State Senate, and I was then a member of that body, the vote on the proposal was 55-4, and mine was the lonely vote of opposition.

I am sure many observers thought that strange since I have long sponsored bills for stronger air and water pollution measures and for a better park and recreation program.

The reason for my vote was simply that we are better off meeting our needs on a pay-as-you-go basis as much as possible.

This is usually not possible for a school district or a municipality. But the state government can operate on a pay-as-you-go basis if we have the courage to do it.

State Treasurer Adlai E. Stevenson III recently issued a report pointing out that the state has almost one and one-half billion dollars in indebtedness—and on that amount we will pay interest of one billion dollars.

People express a great deal of concern about the federal indebtedness, and I share much of this concern—not because it means the nation will go bankrupt, but because it means spending money unnecessarily on interest, and because it could tend to diminish the value of the dollar.

But the indebtedness of state and local governments is growing much more rapidly than is the federal indebtedness. Between the fiscal years 1946 and 1966 the federal indebtedness grew 63%. During the same years the indebtedness of state and local governments in the nation grew by 670%.

This means that a higher and higher percentage of your state and local tax dollars is going for interest, rather than goods and services.

I am not suggesting that a school district should not issue bonds; most school districts are forced to.

But it does mean that we must reassess what we are doing to diminish the trend toward unnecessary indebtedness.

School districts, for example, could take advantage of a bill which permits them to accumulate funds on a .06 per cent levee. This can only happen after referendum, but could save many thousands of dollars in your school district.

And most important, in determining state policies we should move toward honestly facing our needs and our resources. Ordinarily if we are not willing to vote the revenue, we should not vote the appropriations.

Your Lt. Gov. Reports —

During the election campaign of 1968, I made a pledge to serve as a trouble-shooter and a complaint department for the citizens of the state.

The term used to describe such an official is "ombudsman," a Swedish word describing someone who investigates complaints for citizens.

I have been Lieutenant Governor for only a month, and already it is clear that there is a need for such an official—someone who can, in a sense, be a lobbyist for people who have no lobbyist.

The first duty of this office is in the legislative field, and to serve as acting governor whenever the governor leaves the state; but as such as time permits we will try to handle citizen complaints.

We have received a great variety of complaints—some legitimate which we have been able to do something about, and some with little basis.

What kind of things are we doing?

The recent heavy rains brought floods to many areas of the state. One woman sent us a telegram saying that the local governments were fighting back and forth about who had what jurisdiction to meet the emergency needs—and no one doing anything. We got on the phone on the matter and in about an hour and a half had things worked out, with the different governmental units agreeing to specific assignments.

Some requests are in connection with license problems and public aid. Some are from communities which face grave economic problems. Some are from suburban areas with growing pains.

A group of Puerto Rican leaders in Chicago contacted me and wanted to meet on school problems which they face. There are about 300,000 Spanish speaking citizens in Cook County, and problems in their areas have occasionally erupted in violence. I met with them and heard perhaps 20 requests for action; some of which we will be able to do something about, some of which we will not.

But perhaps as important as anything, these people talked with the number two man in state government and felt that someone was genuinely interested in their problems.

The Kerner Commission Report says that riots are caused in part by people feeling an inability to reach anyone in government. They come to regard government as some kind of a beast not really interested.

In deep Southern Illinois, counties face special difficulties, and I am working with legislators of both parties on them. Many small communities are barely holding their own or are dying—and perhaps because of my residence in a small town—I think this represents a loss to the state in many ways.

Gov. Richard Ogilvie has indicated both in public and in private that he supports this effort to try to meet citizens' problems.

Right now the stack of letters is growing, but as fast as our small staff can do it, we are trying to help citizens with their problems.

Tips For Tornado . .

A tornado warning means that a storm is imminent, a tornado has been sighted in your area and you may have only minutes to protect yourself.

Frazier said to seek inside shelter, preferably in a tornado cellar, underground excavation or a steel-framed or reinforced concrete building of substantial construction.

Other tips include:

In office buildings—stand in an interior hallway on a lower floor, preferably in the basement.

In factories—move to the section of the plant offering the most protection.

In homes—the basement usually offers the greatest safety. If there is no basement take cover under heavy furniture in the center part of the house and keep some windows open but stay away from them.

In schools—go to an interior hallway on a lower floor.

Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums or other structures with wide, free-span roofs.

In open country—an open ditch is the safest place.

$1.7 Billion Will Be Bell Investment

Illinois Bell Telephone said today that it estimated that it will invest more than $1.7 billion over the next five years in new buildings, equipment, cable and other facilities needed for growth and improvement of its services.

The announcement was made in the company's 1968 annual report, now being distributed. Construction expenditures for 1969 will be at a new high of $312 million.

President James W. Cook characterized 1968 as "most unusual."

"The strike," Cook says, "prevented us from delivering to our customers all the new communications service they wanted. Thus we ended the year with a large backlog of orders, which we are still working hard to eliminate. We were not able to realize our 1968 growth potential, even in what turned out to be a prosperous economy."

After a listing of current uncertainties, however, Cook reports that "we expect the economy to be reasonably good—which should result in our continued growth."

Despite more than five months of strikes in 1968, the report points out, the company gained 139,000 telephones for a total of 5,585,000 at year-end. This increase was 69 per cent of the 1967 growth, and the company entered 1969 with the prospect of a strong service demand.

Customers also continued to increase their use of telephone service during the year—on an average weekday the company handled 24.7 million calls, up 3.4 per cent from 1967's all-time high. Long distance conversations increased—up 10.6 per cent from the previous year.

During 1968, $244 million was invested in communications facilities, just 2.3 per cent below the record 1967 investment; the greatest proportion of the expenditures was for growth of telephone facilities—additional phones, cables and the like.

Chief among the service modernization items was installation of the company's first two central office electronic switching systems—one at Peoria and the other on Chicago's Near North Side; they serve about 37,000 customers; additional installation are scheduled for five other locations during 1969, and many others will be following in years to come.

It is pointed out that the first field trial of this successor to older types of switching gear was held in Morris, Ill., nine years ago; that research in electronic switching is centered at the Bell Telephone Laboratories' Naperville complex and that the equipment is largely manufactured at the Hawthorne Works of the Western Electric Company.

Two particular interests of the company are discussed in special sections of the report.

One is on the overall development and expanding uses of the Bell System network, now com-

More Tax Bills In Legislature

Even though local property tax bills to be received by taxpayers in Illinois this year will hit an all time high, bills to authorize further increases are gradually creeping into the legislative hoppers, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois said today.

Such bills generally authorize local governments to levy tax rates for funds without referendum, take off present referendum provisions, or authorize issuance of general obligation bonds without referendum.

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois has always stood strongly for the referendum principle and still does.

The Illinois taxpayer is left at the present time with very little protection from what can often be described as unnecessary tax increases, and removal of referendum requirements on any property tax bill will further aggravate the existing condition.

The rebuttal is often given, "Yes, but the people will not vote for proposals at referendum." The Federation does not buy this argument in most cases. School referenda are still passing at a 68 per cent clip, and proposals such as transportation and forestry taxes have been approved by the voters when properly explained. It seems a bit confusing for a legislative body to consider homestead exemptions (and this is a serious situation for people on fixed incomes, trying to stay in their homes), and then turn right around and take the exemption away by automatically increasing tax rates. It is time that taxpayers spend 6c for a postage stamp and let their legislators know their feelings. We are certainly hearing from them.

prised of 700 million miles of communications paths.

The other section is on the company's increasing involvement in the community—including the "Bell-Tel Training and Work Center," organized by Illinois Bell and Western Electric Company on Chicago's South Side late in 1968. Its essential mission is to make telephone careers possible for men and women who cannot meet standard employment qualifications.

In his message to shareholders, Mr. Cook explains, "It is clear that our role in this necessary task will continue to expand, in partnership with others. Solving these problems may be costly—but nothing like the costs to our customers and shareholders if present conditions are permitted to deteriorate further. Business generally, now recognizes this and is participating on a much broader scale."

As previously reported, the company's total operating revenues rose to $865,529,000, up 5.6 per cent over 1967.

Operating expenses and taxes totaled $717,117,000, up 6.4 per cent over 1967. The report says that operating expense, excluding taxes, increased only 1.2 per cent, lower than predicted because of the prolonged strike.

Operating taxes, however, increased to $237,717,000, up 18.7 per cent over 1967, attributable principally to increases in federal income taxes, including the 10 per cent tax surcharge; increase in the Chicago municipal utility tax from 2 to 5 per cent and the addition of 14 new communities which now impose this tax.

Interest on debt increased 16.7 per cent over the previous year to $23,526,000.

Net income from operations was $128,885,000, down $469,000 from the total for 1967. This amounts to $2.49 per average share and $2.39 on year-end shares, compared with $2.50 for both in 1967.

NI-Gas Will Join Two Exchanges

Northern Illinois Gas Company announced that it will take steps toward listing its common stock on the New York Exchange and the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange.

Marvin Chandler, NI - Gas Chairman and President, said the utility's Board of Directors authorized these actions at their March 4 meeting. Accordingly, discussions will be held with the Exchanges and formal applications will be filed as soon as practicable. He pointed out that NI-Gas' 11,637,573 common shares had, for many years, been listed solely on the Midwest Stock Exchange. "We are confident," Chandler commented, "the additional exchange listings will broaden the market for NI-Gas stock and thus benefit our almost 100,000 stockholders."

At the same time, the directors voted to raise the quarterly dividend on the company's common stock to 42c a share. Chandler said this action marked the 11th straight year the NI-Gas dividend has been raised. The $1.68 rate, he stated, is 5 per cent higher than the $1.60 annual rate in effect since May 1, 1968. The quarterly dividend is payable May 1 to stockholders of record Mar. 21.

Chandler estimated the utility's earnings for the 12 months ended Feb. 28, 1969, would be about $2.45 a share. This is 11c a share greater than the $2.34 figure for the year 1968, which was adversely affected to the extent of 23 cents a share by warmer weather than 1967 and another 23 cents by the Federal surtax. He expressed optimism about the company's ability to exceed in 1969 its previous high annual earnings per share of $2.50 reported for 1967.

Chandler stated also that long term prospects for continued growth are favorable. The NI-Gas system, primarily suburban Chicago, continues to grow in population and business activity at twice the national rate. Gas for residential heating is cheaper than oil by more than 40% and electricity by almost 70%. Nine out of ten new housing units in the area heat with gas and in 1968 an additional 12,000 existing homes converted to gas heating. Another 110,000 dwelling units are still heated by other fuels and represent a $13 million annual revenue potential.

Due to industry's desire to reduce pollution, commercial and industrial sales have been growing much faster than residential, and sizable potential loads; both in existing plants and new plants, will be available to enhance future sales, Chandler said.

"We are in a favorable competitive position with a premium product selling at a discount price, have a fine, rapidly growing territory, enlightened regulation and a dynamic, vigorous management team," Chandler said. These should prove to be the ingredients for further success.

Northern Illinois Gas Company is the nation's sixth largest operating gas utility. The company serves more than 1,000,000 customers in a 16,000 square mile territory in northern and western Illinois.

which counties have to perform. There are powers which county boards may exercise with discretion. Some of these include: operation of a tuberculosis sanatorium; imposing speed limits; lease or purchase of a radio station for police and fire protection; creation of a health department; provide for, garbage disposal sites; issue licenses for operation of recreation or entertainment establishments; operate a county home, hospital, airport, alcohol treatment center, or museum; establish a detention home for minors; create a regional planning commission, zoning board or sheriff's merit commission.

These are a few of the delegated powers. In Lake County some have been exercised, others have not.

Representing the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary will be Mrs. Bernard Stadler, President; Mrs. Ray Rathmann, Americanism Chairman; Mrs. Anton Johnson, Civil Defense Chairman; and Mrs. John W. Horan, Jr., National Security Chairman.

Americanism, National Security, Civil Defense and Emergency Planning, will be the featured topics, with outstanding speakers on each subject. The theme of the Conference is: "Color Me Red, White and Blue." It also salutes the "Golden Anniversary of the American Legion—50 Years of 100% Americanism."

Mrs. James T. Phelan, State President, of Lincoln, Ill., will preside at all sessions.

Speakers on the morning session will be an Americanism address given by W. C. "Tom" Sawyer, Senior Vice President, Freedom Foundations at Valley Forge, Pa., whose timely subject will be: "Freedom's Challenge in an Age of Youth Revolt."

Colonel Donovan M. Vance, State Director of Civil Defense, whose subject is "What Patriotic Organizations Can Do to Aid Natural Disaster Planning in Their Communities," Civil Defense encompasses far more these days than just having protection sites for the populace in case of nuclear attack. Since nuclear warfare is always a possibility, suggestions for the protection of families at home, children at school, and people at work, are vital information needed by everyone. However, Civil Defense trains one in basic self medical help and gives important data for everyone in natural disasters such as tornadoes, earthquakes, floods, fire, etc.

Covering National Security, will be Brigadier General Robert P. Keller, Commanding General of the 4th Marine Aircraft Wing, U.S.M.C. His varied and brilliant career in World War II, the Korean Conflict and Vietnam, enables him to speak with authority on "National Security—1969."

Another feature of the program will be a presentation by Mrs. Charles Shaw, Paxton, Ill., National Communications Chairman, who will bestow national awards for the best series of radio programs "In the Interest of Youth" to Mr. Lawrence Rodkin, Coordinator of Public Service, Radio-Television Programming, University of Illinois Circle Campus, for the radio series "Let's Take Stock." The television award will be made to Mr. Paul F. Cahill, Director of Community Relations for WBBM-TV CBS, for the series "The Opportunity Line."

"Our Golden Year" will be the subject of Mr. Anthony Carman, state 50th anniversary chairman for the American Legion.

The guest of honor at the luncheon is Mrs. William N. Gill, Minerva, Ohio, National Vice President of the Central Division. This Division is comprised of 12 states in the midwestern area. She will speak of the achievements of the American Legion Auxiliary, on the national level.

During the luncheon, entertainment will be furnished by the Junior members of the Sharvin Unit, North Chicago, under the direction of Mrs. Herman Holt.

Among the distinguished guests will be Mrs. Clarence Kates, Chicago. Departmental Chapeau (state president) of the Eight and Forty. On behalf of the "8 & 40", Mrs. Kates will present a large check to be used in child welfare work to Department Commander Albert Swiderski.

Mrs. Richard Brady, Guerne, District Director, 10th District American Legion Auxiliary, estimates that approximately 85 Auxiliary members from Lake County will be attending this Conference.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said: "Freedom of the press, one of our oldest and most cherished constitutional safeguards, has served our nation uniquely and well throughout the years. It has rightfully become a prime hallmark of a truly free and vigorous society."

Mrs. Arndt recently served as DuPage County Chairman of the Women for Nixon. She is presently the Executive Secretary of the Lombard Lilac Festival Parade, Legislation Chairman of the District 44 PTA Council, and a member of the Lombard Chamber of Commerce Local Government Committee. (The Arndts have three daughters, Kristi, Kerri and Georgianne.)

Mrs. Mary Brooks, assistant Republican National Chairman, has announced that the Conference Theme is the 1969 Inaugural keynote, "Forward Together." ### CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded?" This verse from 1 Kings is part of a Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Substance" to be read this Sunday in all Christian Science churches.

One of the selections to be read from the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, is the following: "The everlasting I AM is not bounded nor compressed within the narrow limits of physical humanity, nor can he be understood aright through mortal concepts. The precise form of God must be of small importance in comparison with the sublime question, What is infinite Mind or divine Love?"

Services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, BEACON HILL, Rte. 173 and Harden, Antioch, begin at 11 A.M. All are welcome.

Urge Farmer To Join Pollution Battle

For protection of his own livelihood, the Illinois farmer should lead in the fight against pollution and soil erosion, Michael J. Howlett, State Auditor of Public Accounts, reported.

Addressing the Illinois Farmers Union, in convention at the Holiday Inn, East, Springfield, Howlett said agriculture as well as industry must share responsibility for solving water conservation problems.

"Last year, I campaigned throughout Illinois for the billion-dollar bond issue for pollution control," said Howlett. "It was defeated in referendum although the people voted heavily for it—1,425,293 votes to 842,908. It failed because it was 300,000 short of a majority of the votes cast in the election for the General Assembly, as required by our unwieldy, outdated constitution.

"We still have to control pollution anyway. Pollution still exists, and we are still going to have to spend money to control it. In control, the Illinois farmer has an important part to play.

"Much has been printed, and photographed, of oil wastes and garbage poured into the Great Lakes by industry. But another factor is pollution from agriculture—animal wastes and farm runoff carrying pesticides, insecticides and undesirable chemicals into streams.

"Another familiar problem is sediment pollution. More sediment is dredged out of our waterways and harbors every year than was excavated to build the Panama Canal. It is a hazard and a nuisance in the water, but was useful in its original location upstream before it was torn from the soil.

"Civilizations have disappeared because men failed to conserve the natural resources which gave them the basic necessities of life. Agriculture is doing a tremendous dous job for the American people. Fewer and fewer farmers are producing more and more food.

"Only six per cent of our population is on the farm, leaving 94 per cent for other occupations. The American consumer spends only 18 cents out of every dollar of personal income for food, as compared to 40 per cent in England and 50 per cent in Russia.

"Illinois leads the 50 states in agricultural exports. Our country leads the world in food production. But while our farmers have become more and more efficient, we have been losing our timber stands and losing fertile soil.

"If we leave to our children and their descendants a fertile land, with soil erosion stopped, with water resources developed and pollution eradicated, our way will continue to be the greatest, the most effective.

"If we deplete our forests, overdraw our soil and ruin our water by pollution, the generations to come will suffer from our rotten stewardship.

"The farmer's responsibility for leadership is a heavy one because the farmer is a key to our prosperity. Agriculture is a basic industry, a source of new wealth and the major market for the products of industry and labor."

NI-Gas Earnings Decline

Northern Illinois Gas Co. announced a decline in earnings from $2.50 a share in 1968 to $2.34 in 1969 as a result of warmer weather and the federal income surtax.

Marvin Chandler, NI-Gas chairman and president, said that the year's weather was 6.7 per cent warmer than 1967, a year which was slightly colder than normal.

In fact, 1968 was the warmest year since 1955. The warm weather depressed earnings 23¢ per share, he said, and the surcharge an additional 23¢. In other respects, he said, the year was one of better than average growth.

The NI-Gas chief executive officer reported record operating revenues of $254,000,000; up 5 per cent over the previous year's high of $241,200,000. Sales of gas increased by 7 per cent, from 3,307 million therms in 1967 to 3,543 in 1968. Commercial and industrial revenues advanced significantly, both posting 99 per cent gains over 1967.

NI-Gas added more than 37,200 customers of all types during 1968, the largest annual increase, other than through acquisitions, since 1961. By year's end, the utility was serving 1,015,579 customers.

Chandler stated that the company's annual report highlighting 1968 activities would be mailed to stockholders early in March.

State Has Right To Levy Tax

"Does the State of Illinois still have the authority to levy a property tax?" This is a question asked by some Legislators this week, and the answer is "yes," the Taxpayers Federation of Illinois said today in its weekly release.

Although there was an unwritten agreement by the General Assembly back in 1932 that if it enacted the authority to levy a "sales tax" the State would no longer levy the property tax, the authority is still there.

Under the provisions of an applicable statute, Chapter 120, paragraph 634, Illinois Revised Statutes, the Governor, Auditor and Treasurer may annually, upon the completion of the assessment and equalization of property, ascertain the rate in per cent required to produce the amount of taxes levied by the General Assembly. This was last done back in 1932; the rate certified was 50¢ (50¢ per $100 of equalized assessed valuation), and on a State property valuation of $6,080,427,859 the 1932 tax bill or extension was approximately $30 million.

On today's valuation of approximately $42 billion ($19 billion in Cook County, $23 billion in downstate), the tax bill at a rate of 50¢ if imposed by the State would be around $210 million annually.

Taxpayers should not be too alarmed that State officials are seriously thinking of this avenue to get State funds, because they are conscious of the heavy property tax bills that produce revenue for local governments. However, in answer to the question asked in the opening paragraph, the answer is really, "Possible but not probable."

Census Bureau To Collect Data Here

Questions aimed at developing new information about the Nation's households and families will be asked in this area as part of the Census Bureau's monthly Current Population Survey the week of March 16, Director Theodore F. Olson of the Bureau's regional office in Chicago announced today.

The March survey contains inquiries on the number of persons in families and in households, employment and unemployment and annual income from various sources. Information will also be obtained on the number of persons who moved during the last year. Answers to survey questions update information obtained by the Bureau at the time of the decennial census.

The monthly surveys are taken in scientifically selected samples of the U. S. population, and the same questions will be asked of all sample households.

The identity of households to be questioned is kept confidential, and the facts obtained will be used only for statistical purposes.

Sen. Percy Sponsor Of Study Bill

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., joined this week in sponsoring a bill to study economic and industrial growth and encourage a more efficient balance between rural and urban areas. The bill, jointly sponsored with Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S. Dak., would create a Commission on Balance Economic Development.

"The development of industry and resultant flow of people from rural to urban areas has created a 'critical urban crisis,'" Percy said. "Transportation, recreation, housing and education resources in urban areas are over-taxed and seriously threatened."

"In rural areas, thousands of people are leaving for lack of opportunity. With skilled labor and vacant land readily available, rural areas can easily support economic development. Yet they are not sharing in the economic advances of the rest of the nation. It is a shameful waste of both human potential and economic resources that our country is not fully utilizing the assets of its rural areas," Percy said in a statement.

"A Commission on Balanced Development will help us to reach a better understanding of the economic forces at work in our country today. If we can anticipate future economic growth requirements, we will be better able to effectively use our resources. There has already been too much 'talk' about more efficient use of our rural areas. This bill takes the first step in intelligently planning for some action on this matter."

New Vehicle Code Before Legislature

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4—Secretary of State Paul Powell announced today that legislation has been introduced in the Illinois House of Representatives establishing a new "Illinois Vehicle Code" to bring the format of this state's law into conformity with the federal Uniform Vehicle Code.

The 500-page bill, including index, makes no substantive changes in present law and is based completely upon present Illinois law, but it combines into one act the provisions of 15 acts now in Chapter 95½ of the Illinois statute relating to vehicles. Principal sponsor of the bill is Representative Pete Pappas of Rock Island.

The measure completes legislative directives of resolutions passed by the 1965 and 1967 sessions of the General Assembly calling for study and revision of laws in this area. It would become effective Jan. 1, 1970.

The bill was prepared by Secretary Powell's office with the aid of the Legislative Reference Bureau and the counsel of the Department of Public Safety, the Illinois State Police, the Department of Public Works and Buildings, the Illinois Commerce Commission and local officials having an interest in the matter. It is supported by the Illinois Motor Vehicle Laws Commission.

Secretary Powell pointed out that if the bill is enacted into law, other 1969 legislation making changes in the present law will have to amend this Code. If it is intended that a 1969 change be effective prior to Jan. 1, 1970, two bills will be required, one for 1969 and one for the period thereafter, each amending the appropriate act, Mr. Powell said.

Judge Dixon Explains Court Action

Chief Circuit Judge LaVerne A. Dixon of the 19th judicial circuit, which takes in Lake and McHenry counties, was the guest this past weekend of the new public service radio series "This Week in Lake County," produced by the county information office.

Judge Dixon said he does not believe judges have become soft on criminals as a result of recent supreme court rulings. He said judges are guided by the high court decisions but it hasn't changed a judge's mind as to what a sentence should be.

Regarding prosecution of cases the Chief Circuit Judge says supreme court rulings have made the prosecutor's job more difficult, and have made it necessary for police officers to be more careful in the investigation of cases. For this reason, Judge Dixon believes policemen should receive better training. He favors establishment of more training schools to upgrade the quality of departments.

In answer to a question regarding the severity of sentences, the Judge says punishments are just as severe as ever. Further, he said news coverage of law violators serves the public and is not excessive.

As to what the average citizen can do to combat crime, Judge Dixon said anyone who sees a crime being committed should report it to local authorities. If you witness a crime you should be willing to testify even though there is a tendency toward non-involvement.

In the 19th judicial circuit there are four circuit judges, five associate circuit judges and ten magistrates of the circuit court.

"This Week in Lake County" can be heard at 10:25 a.m. Saturdays on WZBN, Zion, 1500 kc; 12:10 p.m. Saturday on WEEF, Highland Park, 1430 kc; 5:40 p.m. Sundays on WKRS, Waukegan, 1220 kc.

(Next time, get draft-free, even, electric heat.)

There's something you really ought to know about flame heating systems: they cause drafts.

Air is consumed in the burning process. So, a draft is created that draws in dirty, cold air from outside.

Electric heat won't do that. Because there's no flame.

Which is why electric heat, and only electric heat, can promise you even, controlled heat that's free from drafts. So if you get that chilly, creepy feeling around your ankles on days when it's cold outside—well, we cannot tell a lie.

Your flame-system did it.

New Surface Presents A Challenge

WAUKEGAN — The new asphalt surface at the Waukegan Speedway promises to be a real challenge to all of the Waukegan stars, starting with the season's opener April 12. At least one driver will have a head-start on the competition and that is veteran and past late model champion Dennis Burgen.

Burgen will campaign a 1967

Dennis Burgen

Chevelle successfully raced at an area asphalt track last season. Leno Cigallio of Kenosha bought the car complete recently and plans to have Burgen, of Old Mill Creek, behind the wheel every Saturday at the Waukegan oval.

The car has impressive credentials. Bob Weyrauch of Des Plaines drove the car on asphalt last year and finished in the top five in points there. Burgen and Cigallio expect to find the car's 396 cubic inch Chevrolet powerplant ideally matched for the Waukegan semi-banked quarter-mile speedway.

Burgen, one of the most popular pilots at the Waukegan track, also has an impressive record. Dennis was the Waukegan late model champion in 1963 and 1965, plus he finished second in points twice and fifth once. After a short year of modified racing in 1964, Dennis returned to late model racing winning 62 events at Waukegan in the past four

Little League Meeting Set For March 19

A meeting of the Little League will be held on Wednesday, March 19, in the Antioch Police Station at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting is a general one and set for discussion is the rules for drafting of players for two new teams. Lighting for the Little League Field might also come under discussion.

This year there will be 8 Little League teams, an expansion of two, and 4 Babe Ruth League teams as in the past.

Navy To Accept 17 Year Olds

Today, Navy Recruiter Chief Petty Officer Marconi announced that the Navy is accepting enlistments of 17 year old young men into the more than 60 various fields of training.

For more information contact the Navy Recruiting Station, 106 South Genesee Street, or call 336-8440. The Basic Training Camps are located at Great Lakes, Ill., Orlando, Fla., and San Diego, Calif.

Burgen will have his first regular ride in a Chevrolet this year, after driving Studebakers, Plymouths, Fords and Dodges in past competition.

The Burgen-Cigallio Chevelle team must be highly rated in the powerful list of late model title contenders. Dennis hopes to display the racer March 21, 22 and 23 at the Waukegan Speedway race car in the Belvidere Mall in Waukegan.

This new team will get its first test in competition at the Speedway opener Saturday night, April 12. Among Burgen's chief rivals will be Mike Wolf of Lake Villa, Ralph Simmen of Kenosha, Scott Moore of Mundelein, Chuck Mierendorf of Milwaukee, Jim Luther of Kenosha, Dave Evans of Mundelein, Paul Heitz of Arlington Heights, Al Hagerty of Libertyville, Harold Gutche of Kenosha and Jim Cossman of Waukegan plus over 20 other top notch late model drivers. Qualifications start at 7:15.

DRIVING FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY

by Paul Powell Secretary of State

Today's driving is a far cry from the little one horse roads most of today's adults learned to drive on. Concrete ribbons allow us to tour the countryside with an ease never known before. Yet they take more skill in driving and a driver that is far more alert.

Expressway driving forces us to adjust our habits to high speed travel. The number of small-size accidents has been reduced so that fender-benders are fewer, but when an accident does happen, with the speed involved, it's likely to be a big one.

There are many things you can do to adjust to superhighway driving. Learn how to get on an expressway. Wait for an opening and then keep far right while you are getting up speed.

Choose your lane and stay with it. Leave plenty of room between you and the car ahead. Follow no closer than one car length for every 10 miles of speed. At 60 miles an hour you need 317 feet to stop. That's half a city block!

On long trips, watch for "Highway Hypnosis." If you get tired, pull off the road, walk around the car and keep the window down for fresh air.

Space will not permit further enlargement on the hazards of superhighway driving, but studying "Rules of the Road" will help you to be a better driver off and on the expressways.

Belt Kids In, Council Advises

Safety experts are giving advice to parents that sounds ruthless.

"Belt your kids," they say.

The only ruthlessness involved, according to the Chicago Motor Club-AAA, is on the part of parents who fail to belt their children.

In the United States last year, 1,600 children under 14 years old were killed and 100,000 injured when, as car occupants, they were involved in traffic accidents. Few of them wore seat belts.

All children should wear some safety restraint while riding in a vehicle—infants, toddlers, kindergartners and older youngsters. Adults should set the example.

The motor club suggests that from the moment the newborn infant is taken for his first auto ride, he should be protected. The best way for an infant to travel safely is in an approved harness or a padded bassinet or car bed.

An infant's car bed should be placed on the rear seat lengthwise of the car with the front legs resting on the floorboard and the rear legs fastened by a seat belt. A strong mesh should be tied across the top of the bassinet.

Approved harnesses are recommended for toddlers or youngsters until their weight is more than 50 pounds. Varying types are available that provide security and allow freedom of movement. In some, a child may stand, sit or lie down.

As children grow older they should be taught to open and snap close conventional seat belts which now are standard equipment in the front and rear seats of all American automobiles.

Some manufacturers produce a child seat that can be used in connection with a standard seat-belt. These seats give the child sufficient elevation to allow him to see out of car windows while surrounding him with protective padding anchored by the conventional belt.

In no case can child seats that hook over the car seat be considered safe. On the contrary, such seats in a crash can become hurtling objects capable of injuring both children and adults.

In addition to wearing seat belts, adults should insist on other precautions involving children in automobiles.

Whenever possible, even when "belted," a child should ride in the back seat. Children should not be carted in cargo sections of station wagons.

It is preferable not to leave a child unattended in a car.

Despite publicity given to strangulation, loss of fingers and other injuries to children from power windows, tragedies continue to occur.

Safety precautions include installation of locking devices for power windows or the re-wiring of windows so they are inoperative when the ignition switch is turned off.

Another feature valued for child safety is electric or power locks for all car doors. Either electric locks or some other type of child-proof lock can be fitted to most automobiles.

As children grow older they should be taught to open and snap close conventional seat belts which now are standard equipment in the front and rear seats of all American automobiles.

PMA Merger Plans Will Continue

Pure Milk Association, Chicago-based co-operative for 10,000 dairy farmers of Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan will proceed with merger plans with other producer cooperatives at a meeting in Madison, Wis., March 24.

The road toward such a giant merger was opened up wide at PMA's 44th annual meeting in Chicago, March 8. Delegates amended the association's by-laws and adopted resolutions to set the stage for merging with other groups similarly interested in increasing the marketing efficiency and bargaining power for dairy farmers and eliminating rivalries which have the reverse effect.

The Madison meeting, called by America's Dairy Cooperative, will be solely for dairy farmer cooperatives that are ready to go ahead with a merger. It will be held at the Heritage House.

A. L. McWilliams, general manager of Pure Milk Association, informed around 1,250 people who attended PMA's annual meeting at the Conrad Hilton Hotel that the organization's 19-member board of directors voted unanimously on February 28 to develop merger plans with cooperatives ready to proceed at the March 24 meeting.

"Dairy farmers in this part of the Midwest still have a long way to go to achieve effective marketing and pricing," McWilliams said, "despite the organization of producer groups such as Federated Dairy Cooperatives, Central Milk Sales Agency, and Central Milk Producers Cooperative to enhance the marketing and bargaining power of dairy farmers in the Chicago federal milk market order area."

"It is particularly disconcerting to see co-ops in other areas of the country with far less at stake in the dairy business, merging in large regional associations, with market coordination, political sophistication and financial strength greater than ours," he declared.

McWilliams said two of PMA's important objectives in 1969 are to obtain a federal market order for milk used for manufacturing purpose so as to insure proper payment to producers, and to enlist the services of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in administering the standby pool which provides reserve supplies of milk for markets as needed.

The need for political solidarity among dairy farmers was emphasized by Harold S. Nelson, San Antonio, Texas, general manager of Associated Dairywomen, Inc., an organization working for better prices and markets for dairy farmers of the midwest and southwest who sell milk on federal order markets.

Nelson said Associated Dairywomen's dedicated work with powerful leaders in the nation's capital has resulted in dairy farmers receiving millions of dollars in additional income which they need to meet rising production costs. Avery A. Vose, president of Pure Milk Association, commented that the failure of Congress to enact a permanent dairy import quota bill has raised a question in the minds of dairymen as to who might benefit if dairy product sales were increased through promotion in this country.

Vose, who is also president of Associated Dairywomen, Inc., said Associated has long striven to keep the dairy price support level at 90 per cent of parity and is again conducting an all-out effort to bring it up to that level.

The guest speaker, Sister M. Thomas More, O.S.F., chairman of the social science department at Holy Family College, Manitowish, Wis., and nationally recognized authority on the history of agriculture, called for unity in agriculture.

She said the Republican administration is in a position to refuse getting caught in the net of farm organization squabbles and insist that farm groups get together and help form a policy and outline a strategy they can all live with. "The stage is set," she asserted. "Mr. Hardin appears to be nobody's tool. Big operators, small operators—he can take them or leave them alone. He's begging for ideas, which is original."

"This places all farmers in a

Edison Sales Gain In 1968

Commonwealth Edison Co.'s electricity sales to ultimate consumers in 1968 gained 8.6 per cent over 1967, reflecting a 12.1 per cent upsurge in residential sales and a 10.2 per cent increase in average residential use, Chairman J. Harris Ward said Friday in the annual report to stockholders.

He said ultimate consumer sales in 1968 soared to an all-time high of 39.7 billion kilowatt-hours.

Earnings in 1968 were $2.99 a common share on net income of $131,763,906, compared with $2.98 on a net of $131,007,757 in 1967. Without the federal income tax surcharge, it was noted, earnings would have risen to $2.23 a common share.

In 1968, according to Ward, Commonwealth Edison provided $202,310,655 of local, state and federal taxes for electric operations. The amount of taxes, he said, is equal to $81 for every customer on the company's lines. In reviewing company plans for increasing generating capability to 15,800,000 kilowatts by 1974, Mr. Ward pointed to anticipated savings from nuclear power generation.

"Four of our six nuclear units on order were purchased on firm price, turnkey contracts for an average of $118 per kilowatt, including all overheads," he said. "The two others, at our Zion station, are expected to cost a third to a half more, depending on future construction costs. In all, these six nuclear units have a total capacity of over 5,000,000 kilowatts at prices which look more attractive in the light of today's market."

Noting also that the nuclear units will be powered with economical fuel, he concluded: "All in all, we estimate that by 1974 our nuclear units will be saving us $10 million a year in capital and operating costs, compared with coal-fired units of the same vintage."

Ward said problems in getting reactor vessels fabricated and delivered on time will cause delays in the full commercial operation of three nuclear units being built at Edison stations, although Dresden 2, the first scheduled, should begin producing kilowatt-hours in the fall of this year. "Despite these delays," he asserted, "we are glad to be the nation's leading nuclear power company."

Because of the strong growth of peak loads and because coal-fired units can be built more rapidly than nuclear units, Mr. Ward said, the company recently ordered an 840,000-kilowatt coal-fired unit for completion in the spring of 1972 at Powertrain station near Pekin, Ill. "While this decision was taken primarily because of accelerating load growth, it also will give us protection against delays in delivery of our nuclear units," he stated.

The company's capacity, also

Carmel High Priest Institute Director

Rev. Michael Flynn, O. Carm., former assistant principal at Carmel High for Boys in Mundelein, was recently named director of the Carmelite Institute of Renewal. The appointment was made public by the V. Rev. Malachy Smith, O. Carm., provincial superior of the Chicago Carmelites.

The Carmelite Institute of Renewal, headquartered in Mundelein, is a group of theologian-preachers who travel to all parts of the United States and Canada to aid the renewal of parishes and other Christian groups. The institute specializes in parish renewals using modern preaching techniques and their knowledge of psychology and theology to renew the Christian message.

Fr. Flynn, a native of Chicago, attended St. Gabriel School there before joining the Carmelites at Mt. Carmel College in Niagara Falls, Ont. He was graduated from the Carmelite Jr. Seminary at Hamilton, Mass., in 1953, and from Mt. Carmel College in 1958.

The new institute director holds two bachelor's degrees in philosophy and one in mathematics from St. Bonaventure's University, Olean, N. Y.

Ordained at Chicago in 1961, he did graduate work in psychology at DePaul University and received his master's degree in the field. He served as a psychologist at DePaul's Mental Health Clinic for the past four years, and is a certified clinical psychologist in Illinois.

Windbreaks Reduce Chill, Feed Bills

A windbreak planted on the north and west sides of the farmstead can lower heating costs, improve outdoor comfort, and reduce livestock feed bills, reports Ray T. Nicholas, Lake County Extension Adviser.

Livestock protected from a direct wind do not eat as much feed or spend as much energy in trying to keep warm as those without protection. L. B. Culver, University of Illinois Extension forester, points out that an evergreen windbreak greatly reduces wind velocity, thereby raising the chill temperature index.

For example, if a windbreak reduces velocity from 20 to 5 m.p.h. when the thermometer reads 10 degrees above zero, the chill index is raised from 25 degrees below zero to 6 degrees above.

A windbreak on the north and west sides of the farmstead traps blowing snow and slows winter winds, Nicholas says. Plant trees in your windbreak about 125 to 150 feet away from buildings and yard areas. If space is a limiting factor, plant no closer than 50 to 75 feet. If planted more than 300 feet away from buildings the trees will provide little protection for several years, he points out.

Culver recommends planting three rows of trees in the windbreak, making each row and trees in the row 14 feet apart. This spacing, he explains, gives an effective foliage density, at an early age while keeping the trees far enough apart to avoid early self-pruning and loss of lower branches.

Norway spruce and Douglas fir make the most effective windbreaks in most situations, Nicholas recommends. For information on kinds and sources of planting stock to use this spring, as well as background on other plantings in Lake County, contact county Extension adviser, Lake County Fair Grounds, Grayslake, Illinois.

Two men were discussing taxes and the government's use of money. Just then a school bus passed. "See what I mean?" exclaimed one. "When I was a boy we walked three miles to school and three miles home each day. Now we spend $5,000 for a bus to pick up the children so they don't have to walk. Then we will be boosted, he said, by the delivery in 1969 and 1970 of 727,000 kilowatts of fast-start peaking units, adding to 664,000 kilowatts of similar capacity installed last year.

Edison's construction program for five years through 1973, the report indicated, still calls for a total estimated expenditure of $1.6 billion, as announced last September.

Protest Vegetable Oil Tax

Proposed tax by the European Economic Community on vegetable oil and meal could be a serious blow not only to American Agriculture but also to the U. S. balance of payments.

That point is made by the Illinois Agricultural Association in calling for "the most aggressive trade negotiations" on the part of the United States. The statewide Farm Bureau's board of directors has contacted all Illinois members of Congress, urging them to express their concern to those in the U. S. Departments of State and Agriculture responsible for trade negotiations.

"If hard negotiations fail to impress upon the EEC the seriousness of this threat we believe retaliatory action against key European goods should be considered," the IAA board said. "In view of the importance of agricultural trade, this is a dangerous route but it may be our only alternative at this time."

The IAA board said it understands that the EEC is about to propose a tax on vegetable oil and meal, apparently an attempt to make butter more competitive and to encourage greater consumption of the Common Market's oversupply of butter.

"Such a tax on vegetable oil and meal, primarily soybean oil and meal, would have a definite and adverse effect on American exports of soybeans and soybean products to the EEC. It is our understanding that this tax would be levied whether the oil or meal is imported or domestically crushed."

"Soybeans were bound duty free by the EEC in the 1967 Kennedy Round. It appears that the proposed tax is a flagrant violation of the intent of the agreement in the Kennedy Round and is triggered by the unwise internal farm policies of the EEC."

"Approximately 40 per cent of the U. S. soybean production finds its ultimate use in foreign markets. The EEC is the largest single foreign customer for U. S. soybeans. With Illinois the leading producer of soybeans and the leading state in the exporting of agricultural products, you can see why we are deeply concerned about the threat of a tax on vegetable oil and meal in the EEC."

It's very difficult to put up with prosperity—especially the neighbor's.

It Is Time Now To Order Seedlings

Now is the time to place your order for evergreen or hardwood seedlings for acreage plantings, according to Russell Gwaltney, Gages Lake, Chairman of the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Price lists and order blanks are available at the District Office, 71 South Old Rand Road in Lake Zurich.

The seedlings are grown by Illinois State Nurseries for reforestation and wildlife protection, and are not to be used for ornamental purposes.

Recommended varieties for this area are Red and White pine, in quantities over 500, and the Northern Wildlife packet of 200 evergreens and 300 shrubs attractive to birds.

The tree planting program offered by the District includes a tree-planting machine, complete with tractor and two men to do the job, a pickup service from the Northern nursery, and refrigeration of the seedlings until planting. Tree planting bars will also be available for those wishing to plant their own trees.

"Cost-Sharing" is available from the local A.S.C.S. office in Grayslake or Schaumburg.

Orders will be accepted until April 15th, but only orders placed before March 20th can be picked up by the District. Orders placed after that will be sent via United Parcel or Railway Express.

MASHED POTATOES

Have you ever tried mashed potatoes with peanut butter? A big glob of it in place of butter gives them a delicious flavor.

For "company mashed potatoes" here is a recipe that enables you to fix the potatoes hours ahead and pop them into the oven just before dinner. Mash up the potatoes until the lumps are gone, add butter, bits of cheese (if desired), salt and pepper, and substitute whipping cream for milk. Use at least 1/2 pint whipping cream for five medium sized potatoes. Whip the potatoes until they are light and creamy. Pile them lightly into a casserole dish and set aside. Place in a hot oven about ten minutes before eating.

The zodiac is an imaginary wide zone in the sky, within which the sun, moon, and planets move. In addition, 12 constellations are considered part of the zodiac, although their boundaries may extend beyond it, and other constellations have at least a few of their stars within it.

DRIVING FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY

by Paul Powell
Secretary of State

The Governor's Official Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee has its collective eye on women today.

Women can be and are an influential force in the community. And women banded together can get a tremendous effort rolling when they are enthusiastic about the project they are working on.

Protection of family against harm is one of woman's strongest instincts. The role of Illinois women in the traffic safety movement is defined generally in terms of individual responsibility. They share with other citizens. But beyond that, they have a special responsibility and opportunity in the home and community in developing proper attitudes for traffic safety based on moral and spiritual values.

The Governor's Traffic Safety Committee and I as its Secretary urge all women's organizations to begin now on aggressive traffic safety programs in which all members can participate.

Protect your family and loved ones from traffic accidents. Help in the traffic education program and enforcement programs in your community.

For a copy of your free booklet, "Rules of the Road", write to Paul Powell, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

DOWN WITH TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

The Old Timer

"A vacation is a short ration of recreation, preceded by anticipation and followed by recuperation."

The chances of your car being stolen rose from 1 in 203 in 1948 to 1 in 153 in 1964. There were 466,005 cars stolen last year, many of them by thieves who found the cars unlocked and keys in the ignition switch.

War Victims Will Get CARE Aid

Additional distributions of $181,000 worth of baby cereals and rice, bought in the United States, and $200,000 in locally purchased foods or relief supplies have been authorized by CARE for starvation victims of the Nigeria-Biafra conflict.

The high-protein baby cereals, totaling 50 tons at $25,000, and 500 tons of unpolished rice at $156,000, will be delivered to Biafra through the facilities of the International Committee of the Red Cross, coordinating agency for outside relief assistance.

Each food represents a combination of proteins and carbohydrates, to meet urgent nutritional requirements reported by relief officials on the scene.

Needed food and relief materials available in Nigeria and neighboring countries will be purchased by William Bault, CARE disaster aid specialist based in Lagos.

Working in conjunction with the ICRC, they will be delivered through hospitals, clinics and relief centers serving refugees in areas under Nigerian control.

A second CARE man, Philip James, of Bloomfield, Conn., is en route to Lagos from his post in India to assist in the emergency program. Both Bault, who comes from Villanova, Pa., and James are veterans of the massive famine relief program CARE conducted last year in Bihar, India.

Previous CARE aid in the Nigeria-Biafra crisis totals approximately $200,000, including food, drugs, vitamins, medicated soap, reconstruction equipment for an orphanage destroyed in the hostilities, farm and rebuilding tools for resettled refugees. Operations began last July.

According to latest reports, about 1,600,000 persons on both sides of the front are now being reached through ICRC, voluntary agencies and church-related programs. It is expected that 4,500,000 on both sides will soon need help.

Summer Camp Brochure Is Off Press

For parents seeking ideas for their youngsters' vacation activity and for young people looking for summer employment, a new directory listing nearly 50 of the leading midwestern boys' and girls' summer camps has just been published by the Midwest Association of Private Camps.

The directories are now available, without charge, by writing to the association at 1889 R Bosworth Lane, Northfield, Ill. 60093.

Association officials point out that parents may go "camp shopping" with greatest confidence by use of the new directory. Each camp listed is accredited by the American Camping Association. To maintain this national accreditation, camps must observe rigid standards in safety, health, personnel, sanitation, transportation, equipment, programming and administrative phases. The directory contains a wealth of information on the individual camps — campers' programs, location, length of camp term, costs, camper ages, off-season addresses of camp directors and other miscellaneous information.

To assist those needing additional information on the camps, or additional directories for their friends, there is a tear-out, postage-paid reply card.

Several thousand summer postcards, usually filled by athletic coaches, teachers, college students and others are available, association officials said. Minimum age requirement is 19, minimum educational background is two years of college.
